Lawmakers Charge Roosevelt Yields Too Much to Labor

Say President Imposes on Farmer; Firechat on Radio Tonight

Washington, April 28.—(AP)—President Roosevelt, the White House said today, expects to explain tonight to the American people why a total war requires a total effort both on the home front and through the world.

Roosevelt will make a radio address at 9 p. m., CWT, discussing his seven-point program to check an upward spiral in living costs.

Presidential Secretary Stephen Early said the chief executive would "stress the far flung activities of the military forces and of the production armies behind the fighting fronts, inviting attention to the fact that each of the seven points he mentioned is dependent on the other if the whole program is made to work."

He said Roosevelt probably would pledge himself to use every power at his command to see that the whole program works.

To Fight Any Changes

Early's word apparently indicated that the president was prepared to buck any efforts to scuttle portions of his anti-inflation plan on grounds that to do so would jeopardize all the rest of it.

To a question whether the address would be linked directly with blanket price control orders being issued tonight by the Office of Price Administration, Early said he did not know whether the president would mention the orders specifically. But he said the chief executive would touch on necessary and essential economies and the fact that this is no time for purchasing non-essentials.

The presidential secretary said Roosevelt would give all the time he could today to preparation of tonight's speech which, it is expected, all major networks will carry.

Labor Action Postponed

Meanwhile a delay in senate debate on controversial labor questions appeared possible in the light of an announcement that Senator Connally (D-Tex) had agreed not to press for action now on a motion for consideration of a pending plant seizure bill.

The announcement, by Democratic Leader Barkley of Kentucky, coincided, however, with complaints that Roosevelt practically had exempted organized labor from his share-the-war program. Some members of congress who protested were spurred anew in their efforts to force suspension of the 40-hour week and a clamp-down on other union privileges.

The senate previously had agreed to a special parliamentary order setting Connally's motion for debate today and advocates of restrictive legislation had welcomed this as an opportunity to seek attachment of their amendments.

Consideration Delay

However, consideration of labor legislation was postponed indefinitely after Connally withdrew a motion to bring up a war plant seizure bill, saying that he did not desire to press the matter and he in "apparent controversy with the president of the United States."

Asserting that Connally's action "means the death of the Connally bill and perhaps any other labor

The War Today!

There certainly is something rotten in Germany when Hitler has to order his puppet reichstag to grant him power of life and death over the people, without regard to existing laws, in order that he may be, as he puts it, "legally entitled to hold anyone to his duties," and to punish those who disobey.

Obviously it means that he is encountering trouble which he figures can be handled only by strong-arm methods. The reichstag action, of course, is only eye-wash, serving to warn the restless public of what it may expect if it doesn't give absolute obedience.

This significant development, which is welcome news for the allies, coincides with the swelling of the revolt among the peoples of the occupied countries, and the growing reluctance of the other European members of the Hitlerian pact to continue to sacrifice their own people in order to provide blood-transfusions for nazism. We see this disposition in Rumania and in Hungary and, what is of greater importance, in Italy, which used to be stroke-oar in the fuhrer's galley until the crack of his whip no longer brought the old response.

One of the things for us to watch, and for Herr Hitler to keep a sharp eye on, is the durability of that Italo-Nazi alliance. As a matter of fact it long has been obvious that Italian loyalty to the fuhrer isn't the cement

With Your Cream

Washington, April 28.—(AP)—"Here are the keys to the pantry, Jeeves: I feel like having some coffee and sugar with my cream this morning."

It's not quite as bad as that, but a start may have been taken with the announcement that a 25 per cent cut has been ordered in the consumption of coffee.

This means that wholesalers from now on will be permitted to release only enough coffee to afford the average American 2.1 cups a day, instead of the 2.8 cups to which he has been accustomed.

"Uncertainties about future supplies," were blamed by the War Production Board for the order.

Sugar sales stopped at midnight, preparatory to a half-pound-per-person-per-week rationing program starting May 5.

Question of Permitting Veterans of Current War Join Legion Discussed

Indianapolis, April 28.—(AP)—The question of letting veterans of the current war join the American Legion, organized for veterans of the World War, came to the fore today as conferences began at headquarters preparatory to the national executive committee meeting.

Lynn U. Stambaugh of Fargo, N. D., National Commander, said that if the executive committee decided to open membership to soldiers and sailors of this war, congress must amend the Legion charter and the national convention in September must change the constitution to make the action binding.

Blanket Price Ceiling on Virtually All Consumer Goods is Likely

Washington, April 28.—(AP)—On the brink of an historic plunge into overall price controls, the Capital today awaited announcement expected momentarily of a blanket price ceiling on virtually all consumer goods.

A vertical regulation, preventing prices from rising above the highest levels charged by each dealer in the month of March, was expected to be disclosed at a press conference scheduled for late today by Price Administrator Leon Henderson.

Advices accumulating for the last month indicate the ceiling would apply to retail, wholesale and manufacturers' levels.

President Roosevelt's anti-inflation message to congress yesterday gave a clear hint that rent controls in war-time boom areas would be linked with the proposed lid on prices.

Three States to Darken Coastline

New York, April 28.—(AP)—Seagoing watchdogs start keeping tabs on lights high in New York's skyscrapers tonight as three states darken their coastline by army orders.

Nightly an offshore patrol will report any violations of rigid blackout and dim-out regulations covering New York, New Jersey and Delaware as far back as 15 miles from the shoreline, and the penalty may be a complete blackout.

Acting swiftly on Sunday's announcement by Lieut. General Hugh A. Drum, commanding general of the eastern defense command and First Army, that the entire Atlantic seaboard soon would become a military area, Major General Irving J. Phillipson, commanding general of the Second Corps Area issued the tri-state lighting rules last night.

General Phillipson's orders provided, among other things, that "all lights in buildings above the 15th floor shall be extinguished after sundown or in lieu thereof the windows of such rooms shall be shaded in a manner to prevent direct rays of light therein from shining outside of such buildings."

Civil Government Has Evacuated Capital of Burma; War News

(By The Associated Press)
Japanese invasion armies apparently transporting heavy reinforcements for the battle of Burma, were reported sighted in the Bay of Bengal today as tanked Japanese troop columns sharply threatened the two key allied cities of Mandalay and Lashio in northern Burma.

Dispatches late today said the civil government of Burma had evacuated Maymyo, the Burmese provisional capital, 40 miles northeast of Mandalay, because of the approach of Japanese troops. Maymyo lies on the 130-mile rail route from Mandalay to Lashio.

Early rains, heralding the approaching monsoon—the virtual last desperate hope of the allies for stemming the Japanese onslaught—were reported bogging dirt roads and causing rivers northwest of Mandalay to rise.

Allied reconnaissance planes were said to have observed large amounts of Japanese shipping headed toward Burma coastal ports. Conceivably, they might also be en route to attack India.

Canadians Vote for Sending Conscripts Outside of Country

Massed RAF Raids on German Targets Continued in Night

Ottawa, April 28.—(AP)—Canadian citizens authorized the use of Canadian conscripts anywhere in the world by a vote approaching two-to-one in a plebiscite yesterday.

From dominion ballot boxes came an affirmative answer to the question submitted by the regime of Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King: "Are you in favor of releasing the government from any obligation arising out of any past commitments restricting the method of raising men for military service?"

Returns from 23,481 of the 31,203 polls showed 2,233,115 voted yes and 1,306,782 no.

Pre-election pledges had prevented the King government from sending any but volunteers to Britain and the orient. Single men and childless widowers between 21 and 30 were subject to conscription for defense training. The way is now open for imposition of conscription for overseas service at any time it is deemed necessary or desirable.

The one province to vote adversely was French-Canada Quebec, where the cry "a bas conscription" (down with conscription) had been raised frequently in recent demonstrations reminiscent of its draft riots during the World War.

Returns from 7,437 of Quebec province's 7,975 polls gave: 367,361 yes, 909,835 no.

Automobile Graveyard Dealers Get Warning

St. Louis, April 28.—(AP)—The government has issued an ultimatum that it "will take over" unless automobile "graveyard" owners in Missouri, southern Illinois, Arkansas and Louisiana sell their scrap by May 9 and get it moved to consuming mills within 60 days.

The order was announced last night by George J. Devine, regional manager for the automobile graveyard section of the War Production Board. He spoke before a meeting of representatives of steel mills, foundries and scrap dealers.

Devine asserted letters would be sent today to 1998 graveyard owners and 292 dealers in the midwest asking them to comply with the program.

"The government is not satisfied with the results of scrap iron dealers and graveyard owners in moving junk cars," Devine stated, "and a drive to speed up protection of scrap in midwest and south central areas has been instituted."

Young Doctor Watches Family Die; Suicides

Rock Springs, Wyo., April 28.—(AP)—A young physician, who had detected tuberculosis symptoms in himself, administered narcotics to his wife and two small daughters, watched them die, and then swallowed a lethal dose himself, Coroner J. Warden Opie said last night.

Police broke into the family's home to find Dr. J. F. Ryan, 35, lying on a bed beside the body of his wife, about 34. The girls, Virginia, 5, and Mary Jane, 3, lay dead in their beds with their dolls beside them.

Dr. Ryan addressed a note to the coroner, relating how he gave narcotics to his family, which said in part:

"On an autopsy on me and my wife if necessary. Please don't on the kids. Mrs. Ryan died at 4 p. m. (Saturday). Virginia at 4:30. Mary Jane at midnight..."

Psychiatrists Named to Examine Crawford

Judge George C. Dixon in the Lee county Circuit court yesterday afternoon, granted a petition filed by State's Attorney Morey C. Pires for the appointment of psychiatrists who will examine Earl Crawford, 20, of Sterling, held in the county jail on indictments charging assault with intent to commit rape. Crawford's counsel, Attorney Robert Besse opposed the action, Judge Dixon overruling his motion.

Dr. Harry R. Huffman of Chicago, state alienist, and Dr. Warren G. Murray, managing officer of the Dixon state hospital, were appointed by Judge Dixon to conduct the examination. The petition filed by State's Attorney Pires contended that Crawford was not insane or feeble minded at the time that he attempted the attacks on two Dixon girls. The psychiatrists, after their examination, will report their findings to Judge Dixon.

American Soldiers in Australia Get Boosts

Allied Headquarters, Australia, April 28.—(AP)—A 20 per cent increase in the pay of American soldiers serving in Australia was announced today by United States authorities.

In Washington the war department explained that under a new law enlisted men received a 20 per cent increase and officers a 10 per cent increase in base pay while serving at foreign bases. The law was signed by President Roosevelt March 7, 1942.

Good Collection

Salvage for Victory week being observed in Dixon this week, opened most successfully Monday with the collection of more than three tons of waste and scrap materials from zone No. 1 which lies north of Rock river and west of Galena avenue. Salvage collectors reported having collected 3,600 pounds of waste paper, 3,120 pounds of scrap iron, 200 pounds of rags and 75 pounds of other metals. Collections start at 7 a. m. daily.

Judging from the total weights of waste and scrap materials collected on the opening day, the committee sponsoring the Salvage for Victory week in Dixon was highly grateful of the citizens cooperating and indicated that the first day's result far exceeded expectations.

Friendly Microbe, Found in Stale Beer, Relieves Many Human Ailments

Las Cruces, N. M., April 28.—(AP)—A friendly alkaline microbe, discovered in beer, which kills nearly all other kinds of germs in the human body, was reported today to the southwestern division of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

This microbe has been used in tests on 1,000 human beings to cure many colds, act as a promising preventive of tooth decay, and bring relief in numerous chronic sinus cases, as well as asthma. In surgery it acted as an effective antiseptic.

The report was made by Dr. O. S. Fowler and Dr. Paul C. Carson of Denver. The queer bug was found in stale beer by a Russian in 1915. It was named bacillus

The one province to vote adversely was French-Canada Quebec, where the cry "a bas conscription" (down with conscription) had been raised frequently in recent demonstrations reminiscent of its draft riots during the World War.

Returns from 7,437 of Quebec province's 7,975 polls gave: 367,361 yes, 909,835 no.

Canadians Vote for Sending Conscripts Outside of Country

Massed RAF Raids on German Targets Continued in Night

Ottawa, April 28.—(AP)—Canadian citizens authorized the use of Canadian conscripts anywhere in the world by a vote approaching two-to-one in a plebiscite yesterday.

From dominion ballot boxes came an affirmative answer to the question submitted by the regime of Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King: "Are you in favor of releasing the government from any obligation arising out of any past commitments restricting the method of raising men for military service?"

Returns from 23,481 of the 31,203 polls showed 2,233,115 voted yes and 1,306,782 no.

Pre-election pledges had prevented the King government from sending any but volunteers to Britain and the orient. Single men and childless widowers between 21 and 30 were subject to conscription for defense training. The way is now open for imposition of conscription for overseas service at any time it is deemed necessary or desirable.

Of Interest to Farmers

AMA Is Important Factor In Market Of Farm Products

Urbana, Ill.—Enough farm products to furnish each person in this country with 30 pounds were delivered by the Agricultural Marketing Administration for shipment to allied countries from April 29, 1941, to March 1, 1942.

The 2,000,000 tons of products purchased for this purpose exerted an important influence on the market for farm products produced in Illinois and other important food-producing states of the mid-west, according to L. J. Norton, chief in agricultural marketing at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Because of the shortage of shipping space, emphasis shifted early in 1942 to the more concentrated products such as meat, lard, dried eggs and dried skim-milk. Evidence of this is that the average cost of all products delivered for shipment last February was 16.5 cents a pound as compared with 11.3 cents in January.

Purchases of these products are principally affecting the markets of Illinois farmers for pork, dairy and poultry products. Norton explained. It is currently reported that increased interest is being placed on purchases of dried skim-milk and eggs and that the AMA will buy 40 per cent of the federally inspected slaughter of pork and 60 per cent of the inspected lard during the next few weeks.

During the period from April 29, 1941, to March 1, 1942, the AMA delivered for shipment 194 million pounds of cured meat, 189 million pounds of canned meat, 297 million pounds of lard, 572 million pounds of evaporated milk, 141 million pounds of cheese, 36 million pounds of dried skim-milk, 26 million dozen eggs, 52 million pounds of frozen eggs, 37 million pounds of dried eggs, 98 million pounds of canned tomatoes, 135 million pounds of dried prunes, 100 million pounds of dried raisins, 187 million pounds of dried beans and 65 million pounds of baked beans.

To produce these quantities of animal products has required large amounts of feedstuffs. The federal government has been making the needed supplies available by selling corn and wheat which had been acquired by the Commodity Credit Corporation. Nevertheless, the AMA has delivered for shipment small quantities of a number of grains and grain products. In the 10-months' period the estimated deliveries were 12.6 million bushels of corn, 270 thousand barrels of wheat flour, 1 million bushels of wheat, 152 million pounds of starch, 300 thousand bushels of soybeans and 14 million pounds of soy flour, according to AMA reports.

Grape Colaspis Threatens Corn Crop in State

Urbana, Ill. — Thousands of acres of corn may again be destroyed this year unless farmers take proper precautions against the grape colaspis by planting as late as possible and keeping ground thoroughly stirred, according to a warning issued today by W. P. Flint, entomologist of the University of Illinois college of agriculture and Illinois State Natural History Survey.

Judging by the number of grubs of this insect now in the soil, they threaten to injure corn as they have done each of the past three years. Special precautions were urged where corn is to be planted on ground that has been in soybeans, red clover, alfalfa or lespedeza for two years or more.

Wheat Marketing Referendum May 2

Well Boys—
what are we going to do with it—?
VOTE MAY 2
Wheat Marketing Quota Referendum

The Lee County Agricultural Conservation Association is again calling attention to all Lee County farmers to the fact that the referendum on wheat marketing quotas will be held from 8:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m., Saturday, May 2nd. The reason for holding this referendum is that the nation will have a carryover of 650 million bushels as of July 1, 1942, this carryover together with the expected crop will be enough wheat for two years. The July 1st carryover will be the largest on record.

The marketing quota will become effective if more than two-thirds of the eligible wheat voters vote in favor of marketing quotas. Any wheat grower who has more than 155.0 acres of wheat planted is eligible to vote, all eligible wheat voters are urged to vote May 2nd.

There will be three voting places in the county. Hamilton Township producers can vote at the Hamilton Township Town Hall, Harmon, East Grove and Marion Townships producers can vote at the Farmers' Elevator at Harmon and the producers in the balance of the county can vote at the Community Building at Dixon. Voting places will be open from 8:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m.

Men who are wheat growers and who are eligible to vote themselves will have charge of the voting places and in several cases men who have paid a penalty in a previous year will be on the committee having charge of the referendum.

STORAGE SPACE NEEDED

Enid, Okla., April 28—(AP) — The nation's wheat farmers were urged today by Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard to start building more farm storage at once and told that future production goals limited to 40,000,000 acres for flour milling might be necessary to maintain parity. Excess wheat would go to industrial and feed uses.

"It is no news to you," the cabinet member told an interstate farm audience in an address prepared for delivery just five days before the national wheat quota referendum for the current crop, that "wheat farmers face some of the toughest problems in American agriculture."

"Storage space is already crowded. We have a year's requirements of wheat on hand and with the kind of yields in prospect, there will be a tremendous shortage in storage capacity for the country."

"With terminals overcrowded, no steel or other necessary materials available for new elevators, and no chance to squeeze through by utilizing box cars for storage as was done last year, there is only one way out—farm storage."

7 Cents Allowance

A seven cents per bushel storage allowance will be available if the quota system is continued, Wickard said.

While it is the war duty of American farmers to produce more than ever before, hit-or-miss expansion won't do, Wickard said. "Farmers would delay victory by growing things that are not needed."

"This is where marketing quotas come in."

He reiterated statements of a year ago that no loans on wheat could be made unless the quotas are approved May 2.

14 Plants Give Person Enough Tomatoes For Year

Fourteen tomato plants will furnish enough tomatoes to keep one member of the family well supplied with this food, which is rich in vitamins A and C, for the entire year.

This is the recommendation in the new victory garden chart prepared by home economists and horticulture specialists of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture. The chart gives planting estimates for home gardeners who want their planting and preserving programs to meet nutritional needs of their families.

For example the 14 tomato plants will furnish approximately 30 quarts of the fruit for use fresh or preserved. This will meet the requirement of six servings of tomatoes for a person each week.

"The number of servings suggested for some of the items may seem large to those who have slighted this side of their diet," home economists indicated. "The fact is, however, that more fruits and vegetables are needed than most families are in the habit of using."

Tomatoes are lauded for two reasons. First, they are more generally available to the family than any other extremely rich source of vitamin C, such as citrus fruits or strawberries which can not be served everyday, or raw fresh vegetables, such as broccoli and cauliflower which are not available in the wintertime.

Second, whereas many other vegetables contain more vitamin C than do tomatoes, they also lose more in cooking and canning than do the acid tomato and strawberry.

Multiplying 14 by the number of persons in the family will give the total tomato plant requirement. In this same way families can figure how many string beans, peas, carrots, potatoes and other vegetables need to be planted to keep the table well supplied with the year around. Fruit estimates are planned in the same way.

The victory garden booklet which tells how much to plant, store and preserve is available free of charge from the extension service in agriculture and home economics of the University College of Agriculture.

to cooperating American farmers, he estimated that with loans and payments the latter would get about $1.25 per bushel this year.

Those who look back to the $2 and $3 wheat of the first World war and think that with a bigger war, more demand for wheat will develop, reason faultily, Wickard said. Then the United States was the great exporting nation. Now Canada, Australia and Argentina have surpluses. Nor is shipping available now as it was then.

Farm Engineering News Briefs

Illinois farmers whose cultivators and plowshares are in need of replacement will be interested in knowing that in the latest WPB revision of the 1942 farm equipment program materials have been allotted up to 90 per cent of those sold during 1940. Beet and bean cultivators may be produced up to 100 per cent, and steel plowshares up to 140 per cent. This does not necessarily mean that these implements and parts will be available for the coming season. Unless farmers have already received new equipment, it is much wiser to be sure that the present cultivators are in first-class working order before the cultivating season begins.

Raking and burning cornstalks before plowing and preparing the seedbed require about one-half hour each of man power and tractor power an acre as determined by field studies. Under most conditions this appears to be largely a waste of labor and time. Furthermore this practice destroys organic matter that might be built up in the soil from plowing under the stalks. Therefore it is objectionable from the standpoint of fertility and conservation. Plows that are in good repair and adjustment with sharp and properly adjusted coulters and jointers should plow without great difficulty.

Clean coverage of all cornstalks in plowing is generally recognized as an important practice in controlling the European corn borer now found in about half of Illinois. When used with coulters and jointers, covering wyes and plow trash guides made of sheet metal can give almost 100 per cent coverage of trash and the destruction of most of the borers in the stalks plowed under. Information on better plowing and trash guides may be obtained from the department of agricultural engineering.

Pastures and meadows which are subject to erosion and which are being plowed this spring for the production of corn or soybeans can often be plowed on the contour, leaving buffer strips of sod to mark the contour lines and wide grass waterways in the draws that tend to erode. The use of contour farming with contour buffer strips, 18 feet to 30 feet wide, and grass waterways not only helps to reduce soil erosion losses, but also makes contour farming much more satisfactory by reducing point rows and making possible turns in the contour rows and grass waterways. Furthermore this practice permits cultivating the more productive parts of the field and leaving out those areas low in productivity, gullied or so steep that they can not profitably be farmed without excessive wear and tear on the machinery.

Communication equipment for military services will be produced at the rate of $125,000,000 a month by the end of the year, the WPB estimates.

FRANK PRIEBE'S WEEKLY LETTER to POULTRY RAISERS

Fried chicken is acknowledged as the "people's choice"—the favorite American dinner. And yet the average American eats less than 25 pounds of poultry a year.

If people like chicken so well, why don't they eat more of it?

Dr. Gallup, who makes a business of finding out the answers to such questions, asked several hundred women and found that it was because they couldn't be sure of always getting a good chicken.

I don't think that answer is much credit to the poultry industry, but I don't doubt the truth of it.

We all know what happens when we get a box of strawberries, for instance, and they are green and tasteless. It's some time before we're interested in strawberries again. But if the berries are ripe and juicy, we promptly buy another box.

It works the same with all wood. A poor egg kills a person's appetite for eggs for weeks and one tough chicken ruins the sale of a dozen good ones.

But I've been interested to see what happens when, on the other hand, people find out they can count on always getting good eggs and good chickens.

One Good Chicken Sells More

A group of stores that had been buying eggs here and there finally found a dependable source of supply. Today they are selling three times as many eggs as they were four years ago! It's been a case of women finding they could always get good eggs at those stores, telling their friends about it, and all of them using more eggs.

Lately I've been watching the sale of some of this poultry out of Delaware. At first buyers take a barrel or two; in a couple of weeks they're ordering three or four barrels; and before long they're taking ten at a crack.

In all the years I've been in the poultry business I haven't seen anything like it. It shows what happens when people find some place where they can always get a good chicken.

And there is no use kidding ourselves: These Delaware chickens are good. They are all fresh spring chickens—most of them around 3½ pounds and none of them over 4½. They have all been well fed from the day they were hatched until the day they were sold. When you've got thousands of chickens and your entire living depends on them, you don't let them scratch for what they can get. You see to it that they're fed! And you never try to slip in a stag and hope it won't be noticed, because there aren't any stags. No chickens are ever kept that long down there.

Fifteen years ago chickens were practically unknown down in that section. Peoples made their living—and a rather poor one it was—by doing a little fishing and making Christmas wreaths. This year they will produce close to 100 million head of chickens in a section that isn't much bigger than a couple or three counties out here.

I've heard a lot of reasons for the almost unbelievable growth in poultry production in that part of the country.

But I am convinced that the chief reason for it is that women found out (and it didn't take them long!) that they could count on those chickens always being good.

It gives us mid-westerners something to think about!

Gov. Green Requests Farmers Plant Some Sugar Cane This Year

Chicago, Ill., April 28—Governor Dwight H. Green today urged all farmers in Illinois to plant at least a small field of sugar cane this spring, and thus build up their sugar equivalents for their own use.

In a communication to Henry Pope, Jr., state rationing administrator, the governor said: "I am today urging all Illinois farmers to raise some sugar cane this year in order that they can turn this valuable product into sorghum this fall. Sorghum can be substituted by the housewife in many instances for corn syrup, especially in baking and cooking, and will provide the family with an additional amount of sugar equivalent."

"I have also asked our Home Economics Bureau at Springfield to experiment with recipes for using sorghum in the preparation of foods in which sugar is normally used. As soon as these have been properly tried out they will be made available to the public."

Cankercorn Will Be Destructive Unless Sprayed

The only way now to control cankerworms expected to cause considerable damage to shade trees in the northern three-fourths of Illinois, is to spray the infested trees when the leaves are about half an inch wide.

W. P. Flint, entomologist of the University of Illinois college of agriculture and Illinois State Natural History Survey, recommends a spray consisting of lead arsenate at the rate of 3 or 4 pounds to 100 gallons of water, with 4 ounces of soybean flour or eight ounces of ordinary flour added as a sticker.

For the past five to seven years, cankerworms have defoliated many elm, honeylocust, hackberry and other shade trees, Flint said. They have also stripped all of the leaves from many farm orchards which have not been sprayed.

Starting about the first of February, cankerworm moths began moving from the ground up the trunks of trees in central Illinois, and laying their eggs for the spring brood.

WIND DAMAGES PLANES

Macomb, Ill., April 28—(AP)—Three planes were damaged and the roof of the small hangar was torn off when a high wind struck the Harry Clugston airport near here yesterday. The planes were used in a civil air training program for students of Western Illinois State Teachers College.

House Votes Fund for Rep. Dies Committee

Washington, April 28—(AP)—The house voted the Dies committee on un-American activities an appropriation of $110,000 today to continue its investigations after it had been denounced as "spreading disunity" and praised as rendering the country a great service. Approval of the allotment—largest on a monthly basis the committee has received in four years—came on a roll call vote of 290 to 64, and will finance the committee's work for the rest of this year.

Elgin Enthusiastic Over Its Christian Education Program

In view of the approaching campaign to raise funds for the first year's operation of the Christian Education courses in the Dixon public schools, the following information from a neighboring city is pertinent. The annual financial drive for their five-year-old Christian Education system has just been finished. In this year's drive, called "Victory Drive", 5,723 Elgin citizens pledged $11,590 for continuation of the work. Their goal was $9,937 and it was enthusiastically exceeded 116 per cent. It is interesting, also, to note that every year since 1938, this community has gone "over the top" in such activities. Quoting a spokesman for the Dixon Council of Christian Education, "The lasting value of this program has been demonstrated in dollars, year after year, in many cities like Dixon". The chairman in charge of such work reported that letters have been sent to every civic, fraternal, business, and Christian organization in town, appraising them of the coming campaign, and soliciting their support. That chairman, the Rev. Mr. H. J. Doran, announced that the campaign headquarters of the Dixon Council of Christian Education is established at 410 West First street, and the phone number is 68. Anyone wishing information may call there any time during the business day.

EXCURSION RATES

Springfield, Ill., April 28—(AP)—Some rail and bus companies are establishing reduced excursion rates for visitors to Illinois state parks and recreational areas during the summer season. It was announced today by Walter A. Rosenfield, Director of Public Works and Buildings. He said the fare reductions were granted in furtherance of plans of state officials to encourage the public use of state parks as a contribution to war-time civilian morale.

A Thought for Today

The secret things belong unto the Lord our God.—Deuteronomy 24:29.

God moves in a mysterious way His wonders to perform.—William Cowper.

Looks Like Abuse

It would be very easy, reading the headlines, to suspect that some persons or cliques in Washington are using the war to knock down a few big corporations which offend against certain current economic ideologies.

We hope this suspicion is uncharitable. At the same time, we hope the unpleasant accusations which have been made by certain assistants to the attorney general will prove to be unfounded.

For some time news columns have been pockmarked with allegations that certain American concerns have deliberately hampered our war production.

There is the long series of cases in which Thurman Arnold and his assistants attribute this obstructionism to international cartels, under which German producers are said to have given Hitler all the strategic materials he wanted while our corporations selfishly kept output below national requirements.

More recently there is the charge that the largest producer of steel, Carnegie-Illinois, and the fourth largest, Jones & Laughlin, persistently have violated priority regulations over a period of almost a year.

This last accusation seems almost unbelievable, even though it is made by the responsible War Productions Board.

Big Business has many past sins for which to answer. Nobody any longer assumes automatically that a corporation title and an upper bracket salary are evidences of either supreme intelligence or unassailable ethical standards.

Nevertheless, it seems highly improbable that such concerns as Carnegie-Illinois and Jones & Laughlin have deliberately and persistently violated the law and flouted the national will to win this war. The coveted Navy Department E's awarded to both companies—almost simultaneously with WPB's charges—in recognition of their war production contribution, would raise a question, if common sense did not.

As for the cartels cases, there is compelling ground for wondering whether some young lawyers' enthusiasm for headlines did not lead them astray.

General Electric, for instance, is accused of causing a bottleneck in machine tools by restricting production of tungsten carbide under a pooling arrangement with Krupp.

But G. E. says flatly that the invention originated in Germany. It was protected by federal law, under patents. No American concern could have used it except by agreement with Krupp. It was only through the contract between G. E. and Krupp that we had any tungsten carbide at all. Because of the now denounced patent pool, we and our allies have been enabled to use the valuable metal against Germany.

The same situation obtained in the case of plastic glass. If duPont and Rohm & Haas had not entered into arrangements with the Germans, our federal law would have prevented any American corporation from making the product.

If General Electric, duPont, Rohm & Haas have been price-squeezing the public, the government has a duty to act.

It is an abuse of public confidence, however, if the war is being used illegitimately to destroy the reputation for loyalty of outstanding industrial companies, in furtherance of somebody's dislike for Big Business.

Lower State Taxes

This week the people of New York State enjoyed a refreshing experience. They paid a state income tax which, in general, was only half as large as last year's.

In the words of Henry H. Heimann, executive manager of the National Association of Credit Men: "It is doubtful whether the American people were ever more willing to absorb increasingly heavier taxes." But they want them to go toward paying for the war, and not for the support of dispensable civilian enterprises.

Reductions in governmental expenditures come hard. But if any legislator doubts that they are appreciated, let him ask his friends from New York while the memory of this week's treat still is fresh.

Ships That Go Down

News from the seven seas becomes increasingly distressing. Axis submarines are sinking our commercial tonnage faster than we can replace it. Germans and Japanese have whittled away our naval superiority. Vichy collaboration, an immediate possibility, would strengthen Hitler's position at sea.

Under such circumstances, we may have to reconsider priorities on war production, and allocate more of our materials and manpower to ships. We can't win a war by training and arming men unless we can transport them to the scenes of action and maintain them while there.

Holding the Bag

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation's willingness to take unsalable automobiles, tires, refrigerators, etc., off the hands of manufacturers is a commendable step toward relief of an extremely hard-hit class of little business men.

The real beneficiaries will be the distributors. Having been deprived of their normal means of livelihood, these distributors should not have their capital, including loans on which they must pay interest, tied up indefinitely.

Daffy, Eh, What?

First the boys from the country come to the city, to work in factories. Then there isn't enough help to plant, cultivate and market food crops. So Uncle Sam goes to the cities to find men to send back to the farms to do the work there.

Probably it is inevitable. But it sounds more than a little daffy, doesn't it?

What's so strange about Washington throwing a dollar across the Potomac? Money went a lot farther in those days.

FRANTIC WEEKEND

BY EDMUND FANCOTT

COPYRIGHT, 1942, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Peggy Mack, 17, is the busiest girl in Canada on her first weekend party. Invited with her sister Myra and brother Michael to the country place of Percy Lorton, she is dropped into a swirl of tumbled affairs and immediately takes over. Her project is to win the lovely Fay Ransom for Michael in spite of Nigel Monkhouse, who also loves her. And Baldy Brien, her manager, who is trying to take her back to her former successful Broadway career. Peggy also is trying to persuade Baldy that she, too, belongs on Broadway.

PEGGY TAKES OVER

CHAPTER XII

MYRA yawned, stretched her arms toward the sun, feigning casualness. Baldy, preoccupied though he might be with the problem of getting Fay back on his bread and butter list, was a shrewd customer, Myra decided. If her younger sister had made an impression on him, she must counteract it without betraying more than a detached interest in Peggy.

"Plenty of pretty girls around," said Myra. "Why worry about losing one, even if her reputation is built up in show business? The woods are full of talent. Look at Peggy, for instance."

Baldy, his cigar chewed to pulp, sputtered as he jerked it from his mouth to speak. "Listen, sister. I see so many pretty faces in my time it gives me a positive pleasure to look at yours." He flicked the cigar into the lake and continued.

"In show business, pretty faces are a dime a dozen, you get so you'd rather have a stein of beer any day. When I was a kid I liked molasses, couldn't get enough of it until one day my mother leaves a gallon crock around and I eat until I'm sick. After that I don't touch it and if I see the name in print I feel my stomach turn. That's the way with pretty faces when you've seen 'em coming and going like me in show business—just a bunch of bugs around a street light. The face that gives a movie fan a thump in the ticker gives me a pain in the contract."

"And that's why I like you—honest to goodness, plain down-right honest."

Myra looked at him with a doubtful expression. "Easy on the compliments, brother."

"Them's not compliments, them's facts. If I'd kept out of show business maybe I'd have married a nice homey girl like you, maybe I'd have had a nice cozy job and a home and a couple of kids."

His voice drifted off with the suspicion of a break in it, but he recovered himself.

"But no! I go into show business. I marry a pretty girl and what does she do? As soon as she gets the contract to love, honor and obey, she walks out on me, and that's the way with all of 'em."

"All of them?" said Myra. "How many have you married?"

"Don't get me wrong, sister. After the third try I quit. But I got a talent for managing talent and that's what I mean. They're all the same, get a contract and they change their minds. I shoulda bought a ball team—they got no minds to change. But no, I pick on girls and there ain't a doll in this world who wouldn't give a 60 per cent cut to be managed by me. I make 'em, see. I build 'em up, I put 'em on the top of the heap and keep 'em there and believe me, sister, do you know what nightmare wakes me up in the night sweating, I'm so scared?"

Myra shook her head sympathetically.

"You wouldn't," said Baldy. "It's glamor girls, glamor girls, hundreds of 'em, smiling at me in my sleep with hunks of white teeth, perfect teeth, and blue eyes, black eyes, sweet as sugar, and I jump up screaming in the middle of the night."

"Well," said Myra. "That certainly is a point of view."

"It certainly is," said Baldy. "And believe me the time is coming, sure as blondes follow brunettes, and vice-versa, when a girl with a pan like yours will get up on a floor and knock 'em cold."

"You leave my face alone," said Myra. "Look at the landscape instead."

BALDY glanced around at the serenity of the tree-bounded lake in the sunlit morning. "I wouldn't give you two cents for this in a picture postcard," said Baldy. "Give me a smoke fog over Pittsburgh in a nasty rain in winter. That's beauty, that is."

Myra glanced over Baldy's beautifully tailored play suit, painstakingly immaculate, the collar pressed carefully open at the throat and even the short sleeves knifed with a sharp crease.

"You don't look as though you dress to your beliefs."

Baldy gave a grunt of disgust. "That's show business. You got to put on a front—plush it on. Wear a pair of pants twice and the boys think you're on the way out and after a touch, and you can't get near 'em."

With a snap of his fingers Baldy jumped to his feet. "Sorry, sister. I got to be going. You're a nice kid, you are. Wish there was more like you. Where's that kid sister of yours, with Fay? I got to get that girl. There's a girl for you. Character, she's got. Character and what it takes; best looking in the business and what a voice! Knock 'em flat. I got Benny Blatter from Hollywood all fixed up to spot her on her first reappearance with Johnny White and then you'll see me play 'em for a contract. Play 'em like a fish, I will," he planned excitedly, "one against the other till their pockets sweat the dough. She'll really go places, then. I'll swing her up where she can't quit even if she wants to. That's what you gotta do. Dream up a contract that'll fix 'em so long they'll never be able to wriggle out of it."

Myra let her fingers trail in the water by the wooden wharf. She could see through the clear greenish water under the shadow of the wharf down to the clean sand of the bottom.

"Just like pinning down a butterfly," she said slowly.

"That's it," said Baldy. "That's just it. Give 'em a chance and they'll quit, and you've chased 'em all for nothing."

MYRA began to understand why Fay had run away. She looked up the lake for her sister and saw an empty canoe floating idly with the current.

It was the blue canoe that Peggy and Nigel had taken. It drifted slowly from an island that lay at the far end of the lake, and had it been occupied by anyone except her sister and the capable Nigel she might have been worried. As it was her eyes narrowed slightly as she wondered what prankish trick Peggy was up to now.

Peggy, as Myra suspected, had worked out her plot as carefully as any teen-aged strategist. As Nigel guided the canoe up the lake, flicking his stern paddle against Peggy's bow strokes to scan the wooded shore for any sign of Fay Ransom, she studied him with a calculating air. Not handsome, she observed again to herself, but with possibilities as a charming companion. He was also—point for any designing female to remember—fairly well-to-do. But for other and more devious reasons he fitted into her plans and Peggy, not one to underestimate her own attractiveness, intended to make him useful. If they were to lose the canoe...

Mother's Day, May 10, Proclaimed by Gov. Dwight Green

Springfield, Ill., April 28—Pointing to new wartime meanings in a day "already significant beyond most occasions," Governor Dwight H. Green today proclaimed Sunday, May 10, as Mother's Day throughout Illinois.

The governor's proclamation follows:

"One each year the American people set aside a day for the special honor of mothers. This appropriate custom gives expression to a universal sentiment. Mother's Day provides a welcome opportunity for a demonstration of love and gratitude which all sons and daughters feel for their mothers."

"In these stern times, Mother's Day takes on an even wider meaning. It may well be an occasion for all of us to remember that the most treasured values of heart and home, and of the way of life we are now defending center around American motherhood. The men of America, standing once more to arms against challenging foes, will be heartened this day in the knowledge that the mothers of our land are working, hoping and praying for their victory and their safe return. Thus war heightens the meaning of a day already significant beyond most occasions."

"Now, therefore, I, Dwight H. Green, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim Sunday, May 10, of the present year, as Mother's Day throughout Illinois. And I request that the Stars and Stripes be flown on state and public buildings on Mother's Day, and that our citizens generally mark the day by giving special honors and expressions of affection to their mothers."

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON
(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc., reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited)

Washington, April 27—Hitler has been reported mulling troops in the southern Ukraine for several months now to start his promised big drive, the one which is to make or break his cause.

German generals have been running in and out of Berlin. The weather has been suitable for fighting on that front for several weeks. Yet there has been no action.

The answer is he is still massing, still struggling to accumulate every possible force. He has lifted Italian soldiers from Italy—not for the fighting, of course—but to relieve Germans to go to the front.

Romanians, Hungarians, Bulgarians also are being used for this purpose. Planes are being gathered in from the occupied regions along the Atlantic seaboard (which should leave that way easier for the British). German troops have been shifted from the central Russian front, south to the scene of prospective fighting.

This certainly means action is coming. But if it does not get started within the next three weeks, Hitler will have to furnish some tall excuses.

Hitler is evidently counting on the big thaw, just now developing on the central and northern front to keep the Russians from breaking through his weakened forces there. His transportation facilities are so much better than the Russians that he can move from the center to the south much faster.

But he seems to have depleted his center to such an extent that he will need this fast transportation to get them back when the thaws pass in a few weeks.

Therefore time weighs heavily on his shoulders, and every moment he loses in getting his southern drive going means that much less chance of success. The Russians, fortunately, have enough manpower to maintain themselves in both areas.

But on other fronts Hitler's failure to display any strength in action is less easily explained. It looked as though he had started his offensive in Libya several weeks ago, but it turned out to be only a reconnaissance in force.

The British were fearful that he would break through at that time to their naval base at Alexandria. Now they rest easier with the assurance that any drive against them must not only be started, but completed, within six weeks. The summer sun will then put an end to operations.

Thus it looks like that campaign is off. The Italians who would be expected to contribute greatly to such a move, are instead going northward to relieve the Germans.

With terrific bombing concentrations Hitler went after Malta, the tiny British rock under the toe of Mussolini's boot but it is still there tickling him as well as the faded Mussolini.

Nothing has happened so far in Spain or at Gibraltar, although action at both points has been promised and promised.

New Nazi troop movements into Crete and Greece have been noticed, obviously in preparation for action against Syria, when and if Laval gets the French fleet to lead Dr. Fuhrer's way there.

But Hitler's widely advertised spring offensive has amounted to thus far is the capture of Pe-tain.

Lord Beaverbrook's fighting speech, promising a second front against Hitler in Europe, plus German loss of air strength there for reinforcements in Russia, night, on its face, seem to indicate a British invasion is nigh.

But Beaverbrook did not say when, and what he did say may have been calculated more to frighten Hitler than to divulge imminent intentions.

The British have a stronger Commando force than they have yet used. They are capable of invading any continental point and staying from 6 to 24 hours. Hitler cannot possibly maintain sufficient strength along such a long stretch of coast to cope with the threat they will constantly present to him.

Also the British have behind the Commandos the home forces, and they could conceivably throw these in behind the Commandos to make their stay longer.

For the present, however, that situation stands only as a threat.

War Bonds Pledges Will Be Sought in Dixon and Palmyra

Plans for Campaign on May 11 Announced at Organization Meet

Every citizen of Dixon and Palmyra township is to become a stockholder in the fight against the axis nations and a very efficient staff of workers have volunteered their services to carry out the war bond drive. The plan, which has been under formulation for several days, was revealed at a meeting, largely attended, last evening at the Loveland Community House.

The Dixon Chamber of Commerce has been designated as the agency heading the campaign and President Harry Bates presided at the meeting. He presented LeGrand Cannon, who has been selected chairman, and who outlined the program for the pledge card drive in Dixon and Palmyra townships on May 11. It was suggested that 10 per cent of all income of individuals in the two townships be used for the purchase of war bonds.

Chairman Cannon stated that 300 volunteer workers will conduct a canvass of 3,300 homes in Dixon, 168 homes in the rural area and 220 homes in Palmyra township between the hours of 5 and 9 o'clock on the evening of May 11.

On Faith and Merit Basis The pledge cards will be left in the homes, the campaign to be conducted strictly on a faith and merit basis, the workers leaving the pledge cards and the amount pledged by each household to be voluntary. The pledge cards will be filled out and turned back to the solicitor on the one visit.

Chairman Cannon stated that the pledge would not be considered a donation to the government in any sense but would be in the form of a loan which would later bring a substantial return. Charles E. Miller has assumed the responsibility of organizing the crew captains, Leon Garrison will have charge of the solicitation in Dixon township and Supervisor Leon Hart will supervise the work in Palmyra township, it was announced.

L. G. MacDonald, who has charge of the pay roll savings plan of purchasing war bonds, called attention to the importance of purchasing liberally of these bonds and thus avoiding a possibility of frozen payrolls. Henry F. Zoelck, comptroller at the Reynolds Wire Co., explained the plan inaugurated by his company in January, whereby employees pledge purchase of bonds. Attorney Ruth Leydig Merrick gave a brief but very appropriate talk stressing the importance of generously supporting the war bonds sales campaign.

Not Promotional Scheme

Arnold Lund, county publicity director for the bond organization, explained that the solicitation on May 11 was not in any sense a promotional scheme, but was the culmination of an effort whereby the citizens of the county may demonstrate their support of about 1,200 young men who have given up their positions and entered the several branches of service where they may be called upon to give their lives.

"We in Dixon have always been proud of our city and we want at this time, to increase that pride by showing our interest in our government in the preservation of a cause that is just, Mr. Lund stated.

Reports were given of industries in Dixon vicinity which are already engaged in the war bond sales campaign. Chairman Cannon announced that the following had been assigned to serve in these capacities: Dr. Z. W. Moss, professional; L. G. MacDonald, manufacturers; Ligouri Welch, wholesalers; N. H. Kaiserman, retailers; Sterling D. Schrock, city and county groups.

Several members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, who are cooperating in the campaign were present, and Ted Legner announced that members of that organization would start today and complete by tomorrow, the circulation of posters and advertising material to the business houses in Dixon.

LIST GOOD REASONS

New York, April 28—(Wide World)—Those voluntary Minute Men who will knock on your door May 1 or thereafter in the intensified war bond drive are going to give you these good reasons why you should buy the bonds as a bid on the future, your own and your country's:

1. To help pay for the war, to develop in yourself the habit of systematic savings, and to serve as an additional clamp on rising living costs.

2. To build up your cash reserves—after a short, specified period you can cash the bonds without losing a nickel—against the post-war time when some of you may be out of a job for a while as plants convert again to peace production, or when you wish to buy things you can't buy now.

3. The money invested in the bonds will be safe so long as the government lasts—and will help make the government safe—which

LOUSY LEVITY . . . MISSPENT HUMOR . . . SEDITION OF GENTLEMANLY WAYS. . . and so on, is all we could think of this "matin" when Bob Chubbud Ad Dept. Johnson rollingly sauntered into our corner with a nonchalant air and made the disastrous mistake of such a crack as this, "You White Sox fans shouldn't look so down in the mouth today; why the Sox didn't even play yesterday" . . . if this nice young man isn't more cautious and tactful with his remarks we'll have to "sic" Duke Kennedy and Fritz Hoffman on him for a bit of pulverizing. . .

Peter Piper Bowling Team Wins Ladies' League Title

Budweiser Gardens Finish In Second; Dr. Bend In Third; Dixon Floral Team And Villiger Drugs Tie For Fourth

Piper's Sole Win Yester Evening Accounts For The Championship; Budweiser Misses Chance To Tie For The Title By Margin Of 1 Game

The Peter Piper lady keglers won the championship of the Ladies Bowling league last night at the Recreation alleys. The peculiar incident of the whole affair being that Pipers won only one game of their match of three which gave the second place Budweiser Gardens a chance of chances; for previous to last night the Gardens bunch was out of first by only two games and a shut-out win would have given them a tie for the league title. The "Buds" started in fine fashion by winning their first game but faltered in the second and dropped it and then picked up the third; the one loss was just enough to keep them in second place by one game. Pipers won the title in the first game of their match and then lost their next two.

The Christos Grocers came almost being the stumbling block which thwarted the Piper quintet from taking the title. They defeated them in two games. Fische bowled the high series for the Grocers with 449 and Dwyre and Lois McCardsie fronted the Piper team as each got a 458 series.

The Budweiser Gardens won two out of three from the Frazier Roofing Co. but couldn't quite get the third win in order to tie for the title. Ellis, rolling in the anchor spot for the "Buds", turned in high series for her team with a total of 501. Sullivan's series of 451 was high for the Frazier team.

The Manhattan Cafe bowlers, after dropping the first game to Dr. Bends, came back strong to win the next two for a victory. Nevertheless the Bend outfit finished in third money. Kaufman led the Cafe team with a series of 435. Egan was high for the Bend team with a 446 series.

The Plum Hollow bowling team completely blanked the Dixon Florists in three straight games. Herman ran up a 499 to place the Golfers and P. Carson topped the Floral list with a 489. This dropped the Florists to a two way tie for fourth place with the Villiger Drugs team.

The Villiger Drugs went into their fourth place tie by virtue of a shut-out win over the Eichler Brothers quintet. Cinnamon bowled high for the Druggists with a 437 series. Elsie Shaulis provided the leading role for the Eichler team with a series of 442.

The Kathryn Beard keglers took a two game win over the Rainbow Inn after losing the first game of their match. Myers cracked down the high number for the Rainbow with a 472 and Klein's average was high in her absence which was high for the Beard team at 474.

The Bowman Brother shoe team won two out of three from the Lorene Beauty Shop. S. Carson hit the high mark for the Shoe outfit with a 443 series. Messner's series of 409 was the top figure for the Lorene team.

The Nu-Fashion Beauty Nook finished its season in a gala manner as they took a grand-slam victory over the Dixon Cafe. E. Hackbarth led the win parade for the Nu-Fashion with a 467 series and G. Hammerstrom was high for the Cafe with 378.

Cubs in Extra Time Tilt Set-Back Reds

(By The Associated Press)
The major leagues open their first intersectional strife of the season today and the next 10 days may be more revealing than those that have passed.

It is impossible to evaluate the Brooklyn Dodgers, for instance, on their record of winning nine out of 11 games from the Boston Braves and Philadelphia Phils and no one will be sure of the surprising strength shown by the Cleveland Indians until they are tested against the New York Yankees and Boston Red Sox.

At the outset there are three series that stand out—the Detroit Tigers invasion of Boston in the American League and the Brooklyn at Cincinnati and New York at St. Louis struggles in the National League.

The Tigers have come up with some unexpectedly fine pitching and the New York Giants with extra-base hitting to astound virtually everybody by hanging around third place in the two leagues. Some of the credit for their high estate, however, must go to the collapse of the Chicago White Sox, who currently are crouched in the American League cellar, and the Cincinnati Reds, who are in seventh place in the Senior circuit. Both these clubs were, and still are, expected to wind up near the top.

The Reds ran into another setback yesterday, 4-3 in 11 innings, by the Chicago Cubs and now need desperately to show something against the Dodgers if they hope to get into the pennant scramble. For the Cubs victory meant a tie with the Giants for third place.

Johnny Vander Meer hurled for the Reds and allowed 11 hits in 11 frames—but six of these were bunched in the fourth and fifth innings for three Chicago runs and two more, singles by Stan Hack and rookie Len Merullo, sandwiched an error by shortstop Eddie Joost in the 11th and spelled Vandy's doom.

All of the other clubs had an open date.

German-born Physician Saves His Citizenship Papers From Salem Fire

Salem, Ill., April 28.—(AP)—A fire of undetermined origin destroyed the Salem theater early today and resulted in a loss estimated by R. C. Cluster, owner, to exceed $50,000.

Fire companies from Sandoval, Mt. Vernon, Centralia, Odin, Xenia and Flora helped Salem firemen fight the blaze for four hours.

The theater had been closed for half an hour when accumulated smoke and heat burst open the doors at 11:35 p. m. It was 3:30 a. m. before the flames were extinguished.

Dr. F. C. Kazenstein, a German-born physician and surgeon, aroused the admiration of onlookers when he entered the burning building to get to his offices above the theater. A few minutes later he emerged from the smoke, clutching some documents. They were his naturalization papers, obtained only yesterday.

Blame Motorman as Five Die in Subway Crash

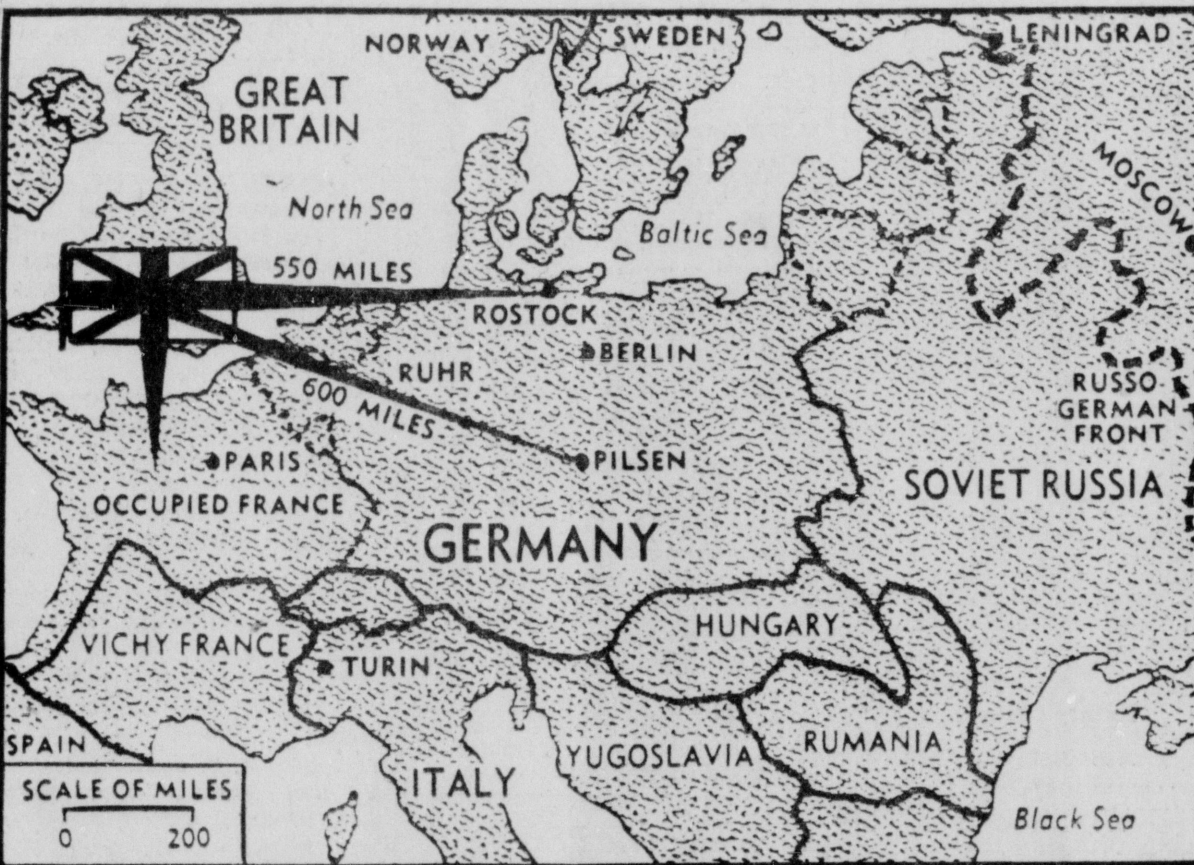

Five persons were killed and 262 injured when this Hudson river subway train jumped the track in Jersey City, N. J. Manslaughter charges were filed against the motorman, who has been held to the grand jury on charges of operating a public conveyance while intoxicated. (NEA Telephoto.)

Bomber Fails in Test; Crew of Five Killed

spiraling upward, we must fix ceilings on the prices which consumers, retailers, wholesalers, and manufacturers pay for the things they buy; and ceilings on rents for dwellings in all areas affected by war industries," Roosevelt said.

Official sources had indicated previously that announcement of the sweeping Office of Price Administration action was waiting only on the president's presentation to Congress of an omnibus anti-inflation program.

May Follow Canada's Plan

The plan was expected to follow the Canadian pattern of permitting each store to set its own ceiling, using the highest price it charged in March as the maximum.

New legislation would not be necessary for a blanket price order or an extension of rent controls. Henderson has authority under the emergency price control act to abandon the selective or "piece-meal" technique so far used and to take blanket price action.

Rent controls can be set up in any community merely by designating it as a defense area. A score of communities were so designated on March 12.

In this connection, Henderson gave notice last night that OPA would take stern steps to enforce rent reductions in these 20 areas as prescribed by OPA. The communities are given 60 days to reduce rents by local action, and after that time the government may move in if necessary to compel compliance. The price chief said the 20 communities would be surveyed immediately and that federal regulation would start with June rents if any have failed to comply.

Sees Farmers' Approval

Meanwhile Secretary of Agriculture Wickard expressed the opinion today that farmers approved a recommendation of Roosevelt that the price control act be changed to provide minimum ceilings on farm prices at parity rather than at the higher levels now authorized by the law.

The price law now specifies four levels for determining minimum ceilings for agricultural commodities. For most products the minimum is 110 per cent of parity.

Wickard, in Enid, Okla., today for a farm meeting, authorized his office to issue a statement expressing full accord with the president's message to Congress yesterday.

"Farmers have everything to gain and nothing to lose by such a program. Every farmer who farmed during and after the last war remembers the disastrous results which followed the upward spiraling of prices during the war. "Farmers will be particularly pleased to know that retail and wholesale prices are to be controlled before further advances occur in the cost of items which they must purchase for their homes and their farms. "Farmers will be glad to see the price control act changed so that the general level of farm prices will not advance beyond parity because they have accepted parity as being fair in principle. The great majority of them have not favored restrictions on the sale of government-owned stocks of farm products, and now I am sure they will be pleased to see these restrictions removed. In my opinion, farmer will give the president's program their full support."

dential districts, hospitals and public buildings.

Stockholm reports said 10,000 families had been left homeless at the Baltic port of Rostock, bombed four nights in a row, while the British Air Ministry declared aerial reconnaissance photos showed that the population was carrying out a mass exodus from the bomb-wrecked city.

Plane Works Damaged

Reconnaissance flights over Rostock have established that the main assembly sheds of the big Heinkel aircraft factory there had been damaged as well as many of the auxiliary buildings, the British said.

A British communique acknowledged "a good many casualties," fires and widespread damage in the German night raid on Norwich (pop. 125,000). Nine persons were missing in the debris of a bomb-smashed hospital; rescue workers were still digging in the wreckage for trapped victims at daylight.

Nazi General Cashiered

In the Russian campaign, Stockholm dispatches reported that Adolf Hitler had cashiered Lieut. Gen. Englebrecht, commander of the 163rd German division, in a rage over soviet gains on the Finnish front.

These reports said a shakeup of the entire German command in Finland was imminent, with Hitler determined to check the Russian counteroffensive cross the still frozen Lapland front and in Karelia, north of Leningrad.

Hitler's field headquarters admitted that the Russians were developing "fairly strong" attacks in some sectors of the 2,000-mile battle line from the Arctic to the Black Sea, but asserted they were being repulsed with heavy soviet losses.

A bulletin from Red army headquarters said Russian troops bloodily repulsed tank-led German forces which have sought for two days to drive wedges into soviet lines on the central front, killing more than 1,000 nazis.

On the North African war front, British headquarters reported "considerable patrol activity" and said axis columns in a southern sector of the desert campaign "withdrew on being engaged by our light forces."

which holds the original axis brotherhood together. To put it bluntly, Italy is in much the same position as any of the German-occupied countries—an unwilling wearer of a yoke which thus far has been too heavy to shake off.

It isn't strange, therefore, to get a report from neutral Turkey that secret negotiations for peace are being undertaken in Rome with the allies. Now there may or may not be a sound basis for this report but from my own knowledge I am confident that whether or not the Italians actually are feeling about for peace, they would jump at it if they were free to do so.

But they aren't free. Hitler's troops have their hob-nail boots firmly on Italian soil, and he has only to raise his hand to turn that ancient country into another France. He has coolly and ruthlessly drained Italy of her resources until there is even a serious shortage of food in some places. Mussolini no longer is master in his own house, but has reached the pitch of seeing his land turned into a German military base over which he has little control.

Actually a great section of the Italian people have had no stomach for the German game from the start. I know from personal investigation in Italy that they abhorred Hitler's doctrines and were immeasurably shocked by such acts as persecution of the churches and the Jews. Thus it was with the utmost misgivings and reluctance that, apart from the fanatical young fascists, they followed Il Duce on what has proved to be a disastrous gamble.

Long ago the people began to swing from the once hypnotic personality of Mussolini back to the old king and the royal family. The monarch once more is the big man in the hearts of the great majority of his subjects. There is no doubt that Italy would like peace, and while the king now is in effect a prisoner in his palace, the time may come when he can act.

Such a peace would, of course, mean unconditional surrender. The allies could accept nothing short of that, but they already have made it clear that the new world after the war is to rest on justice and equality.

legislation," Senator Byrd (D-Va) sought unsuccessfully to obtain an agreement to delay consideration for a single day or for, at most, a week.

Byrd told his colleagues that some senators had prepared amendments to the Connally measure which would suspend operation of the 40-hour week and restrict certain union activities. The Connally bill would authorize the government to take over strike-bound war plants, freezing working conditions in such firms but permitting the adjustment of wages.

Connally and Byrd engaged in a lengthy argument in which Byrd demanded to know whether Connally could give assurance that Roosevelt would outline a war labor policy in his radio address tonight.

"Nothing About Labor"
Byrd said the president's cost of living message to Congress yesterday had "practically nothing in it about a labor program." The president recommended wage controls by executive agencies and opposed enactment of legislation which would suspend the 40-hour week.

Connally said he didn't know what the president intended to say. "The senator wants me to tell him what kind of message the president is going to deliver tonight," he said, waving his arms. "Why doesn't he call up the White House?"

Byrd said the country expected labor legislation to be taken up by Congress and demanded to know why Connally wasn't pushing his bill.

"We can make all of the speeches we want to," Connally replied, "but the president is charged with the responsibility of conducting this war and I don't want to get into a controversy or an argument with the president of the United States over something that may work out better under his program than otherwise."

"You not only have to have the inclination to bring up a bill, but you have to have the votes," he declared, turning to Byrd who stood beside him. "What good will it do to bring up something and get the hell beat out of it?"

Legislators generally approved the objectives set forth in the president's seven point message yesterday designed to bring about an "equality of privilege" in sharing the war burden, but split into confused and quarrelsome blocs opposing and supporting some of the methods proposed.

There was sharp criticism in Congress of the fact that Roosevelt had asked for no labor legislation and had approved continuation of over-time wages for war industry workers while, at the same time proposing legislative lowering of price ceilings on farm products.

Opposition developed also to his suggestion that drastic measures be enacted which would level off high personal incomes at $25,000 a year, after payment of taxes. Most members agreed with his recommendations for drastically increased excess profits taxation.

Some Ideas Approved
There was general approval of an expected order fixing retail and wholesale prices and there was no objection to a rationing of essential commodities. Likewise, the president's proposal for widespread voluntary purchases of War bonds was applauded.

But legislators who have been championing new labor laws expressed dissatisfaction at Roosevelt's plan to stabilize wages by executive action through the machinery of the War Labor Board as well as his evident opposition to suspension of the 40-hour week and to the enactment of anti-strike legislation. Roosevelt predicted his stand on the assertion that organized labor had "voluntarily given up its right to strike during the war."

The labor question was brought before the senate today on a special order permitting Senator Connally (D-Tex) to move to the floor his bill authorizing the government to seize strike-bound war plants, freezing working conditions in such plants but permitting the adjustment of wages by a special board.

I. N. U. Loses Appeal to Supreme Court of U. S.

Washington, April 28—(AP)—The Supreme court refused Monday to review a decision which held that Genesee and Heyworth, Ill., have the power to enforce ouster proceedings against the Illinois Northern Utilities Company and Central Illinois Electric & Gas Company which supply power in the respective municipalities.

The companies appealed from an Illinois Supreme court ruling, contending the issues were decided without due process of law and that the lower court's decision detrimentally affected their rights.

Genesee granted Illinois Northern the right to use streets and furnish electric service in 1923 for 10 years. At expiration Genesee passed an ouster ordinance because the utility refused to get out. Heyworth in 1907 granted Central Illinois the same rights. In 1932 the right expired and the utility refused to get out.

Both municipalities had installed power plants of their own.

Elgin, Ill., April 28—(AP)—John Thurnu, blacksmith and mayor of the village of Pingree Grove, and Thomas Hennig, a farmer, were ordered to appear before Justice James F. Hennessey here tonight on charges of cruelty to animals.

The charges were contained in a warrant sworn out yesterday by John Dehs, whose dog, Shep, was in an animal hospital suffering third degree burns. Sheriff Marcus Danisch said. A representative of the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals said he planned to attend the trial.

Warner and Keho to Direct Lee County's Committees for Year

Political Organizations Perfected at Monday's Meetings in Dixon

Henry C. Warner of this city was the unanimous selection of the Lee county Republican central committee to continue as chairman of the organization for another year at the meeting yesterday afternoon in the Lee County court room. Glen Coe, precinct committeeman from the tenth Dixon precinct placed the name of the candidate before the convention and said in part:

"This is a fight for the preservation of good government for which the Republican party has always stood, and it must be fought with more vigor than ever before and we must use our best endeavors to keep the fine record of Lee county up to the high standard it has enjoyed in the past. We, of Lee county, have been particularly fortunate for a number of years to have as our chairman one who has given generously of his substance and of his service in our behalf without thought of remuneration and I submit him to you as chairman of this organization for as long a period as he will continue to serve."

Sec. Miller Re-elected

The nomination was seconded by Committeeman Joe Murphy and Frank Nangle and Chairman Warner was unanimously selected. Sam Miller of Paw Paw was the unanimous choice to succeed himself as secretary of the body. Chairman Warner submitted the financial report of the committee which showed a neat balance, and letters were read from Franklin J. Stransky of Savanna and Frank Maynard of Rockford, candidates for the nomination for the Supreme court bench from this district at the recent convention in Oregon, pledging their support to Judge William J. Fulton of Sycamore, the successful candidate.

Judge Fulton was present at the organization session and congratulated the committee members on their unity of purpose and the selection of an outstanding and most capable chairman in the person of H. C. Warner. He expressed his appreciation for the fine support accorded him by the Lee county delegates at the Oregon convention, and in closing urged the continued support, stating that the result of the June 1st judicial election would be a forerunner to the success of the November election.

Chairman Warner appointed Committeemen Floyd Searls, Fred Wagner and Glen Coe, a committee to select delegates and alternates to the state convention to be held at the Abraham Lincoln hotel in Springfield on May 1. The report of this committee which was adopted named the following:

Convention Delegates

Delegates—H. C. Warner, Fred Wagner, Glen Coe, Joe Murphy, Ed Stanley, Frank Nangle, Robert Sterling, John Crawford, H. O. Risetler, Fred Wood and Everett Barnes.

Alternates—Mrs. George McGraham, Mrs. John Ralston, Mrs. Ben Roe, Mrs. L. G. Grampm, Fred Kersten, Sterling Schrock, Grover Gehant, George Weber, Oscar Berga, Dr. W. L. Berryman and Fred Gross.

Short talks were made by Lyle Prescott, John Torrens, Judge Grover Gehant, County Clerk Sterling Schrock, Leroy E. Bates, State's Attorney Morey C. Pires, Edwin S. Rosencrans and Frank E. Nangle.

The closing order of business, the selection of the executive committee, threatened to disrupt the peaceful progress of the session when Committeeman Floyd Searls moved that the committee be appointed by the chairman and Joe Murphy and Clinton Emmert opposed this method and favored the election of the committee members. Murphy promised a "fight to the finish" on the issue and challenged the right of the chairman to appoint the committee. A roll call vote resulting in 2,415 votes in the affirmative and 1,716 in the negative, left the appointment of the committee to Chairman Warner. John Crawford of Nachusa withdrew from service on the committee and the nine members selected and accepted were named by Chairman Warner as follows: Everett Barnes, Millard M. Fell, Robert W. Sterling, Louis Grampm, Joseph Murphy, Fred J. Kersten, Ed H. Stanley, George Schnuckel, David Moore.

After the committee had been named, Committeeman Murphy secured the unanimous passage of his motion which provided that none but committee members be permitted to make recommendations for patronage positions in Lee county.

DEMOCRATS MEET

Attorney William A. Keho of Amboy was re-elected to the chairmanship of the Lee County Democratic central committee which met at the same hour yesterday afternoon in the jury room at the court house. The usual meeting place has been the supervisors' chambers on the first floor but a force of workers were using that room for the registration headquarters which necessitated transfer of the meeting to the third floor. Leo Lehman of Nelson was elected vice-chairman; Rex Bradshaw, Compton, secretary; John O'Rourke, Amboy, treasurer and Miss Franc Ingraham, Dixon, chairman of the women's committee.

Delegates and alternates to the state convention to be held at Springfield May 1 were selected as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. Leel Greakwz,

IT'S YOUR WAR!!

On Monday, May 11, right here in Dixon, there will be an intensive War Bond drive. TODAY'S REPORT ON WAR BOND SALES IN DIXON SHOW ONLY $6225 SOLD! Lee County trails all surrounding counties! Dixon is investing less than she did six months ago. WERE SLIPPING! DO WE NEED ANOTHER PEARL HARBOR INCIDENT? Must we see a Singapore affair somewhere else?

The question was asked yesterday: "Are they actually using this money to buy munitions? Or do they have another hidden motive?" Well, they do have to buy munitions, and THERE IS ANOTHER MOTIVE—BUT IT'S NOT A HIDDEN ONE. A War Bond gives you an actual, material "stake" in your Government. You will feel especially interested in the protection of our American system of freedom and justice, THE VERY SYSTEM THAT MAKES THESE BONDS SUCH GOOD BONDS! War Bonds are the best insurance ever devised for this democratic form of government in which we all believe! Wide buying of War Bonds will have a steady influence on the COST OF LIVING. War Bond money is money "put aside for a rainy day." Experience has shown that serious changes in business conditions will occur in the change-back to "Business as usual." READY MONEY at that time will be of inestimable help to most of us shopkeepers, farmers and workers.

WE'RE GOING TO WIN THIS WAR, AND SO WE MUST THINK A LITTLE PAST THE ARMISTICE, AND INTO THE RECONSTRUCTION.

Here is a practical way to look out for our own personal welfare in the near future, and buy guns and food, helmets and hospitals for our boys at the same time.

YOUR GOVERNMENT DOESN'T WANT YOUR SAVINGS—THEY WANT YOU TO BUY BONDS OUT OF YOUR REGULAR INCOME, only in this way will you gain BOTH objectives sought.

So sign up on the eleventh, or before, and join in the chorus, "BONDS AND BOMBS." Read tomorrow, "Payroll Deductions."

Fine Enrollment in Classes for Sales Training Reported

A. H. Lancaster, superintendent of schools, announced today that a surprisingly large early registration has already been secured for Victory Sales Training classes which are under the joint auspices of his office and the Chamber of Commerce.

Around 100 housewives, "extras" and students of the Dixon high school have already enrolled in the free course, which is designed to supply the needs of local retailers for ample war-time help. Many local retailers have already felt the need for new employees. The armed services and the war industries have taken many and many more salespeople and others will leave in the next few weeks. So there may be an acute need for trained sales people.

The Illinois Board for Vocational Education is offering one of its well known sales lecturers, Ted Case, formerly with the personnel division of Marshall Field & Co. and formerly national training supervisor for Wards. He just completed a very successful course for both adults and students at Freeport where a total of 296 persons were enrolled. He says 85% of his Danville class secured employment; 100% employment was achieved at Alton; and employment on a large scale has already commenced at Freeport although the class only closed this last Friday.

The classes for adults are open free of charge to all who are interested, starting tomorrow at the Dixon high school. Adults may register at the Chamber of Commerce office by calling Miss Patrick at 26. You may choose either the morning class at 10:00 to 11:00 a. m. in room 205 or the afternoon class in room 113 from 1:35 to 2:30 p. m.

High school classes start Thursday owing to sugar registration and students may report to the noon class from 12:20 to 1:00 p. m. or the after school class from 3:40 to 4:30 p. m. in room 201. Case spoke before the juniors and seniors today and promised them definite assistance in improving their chances to secure a job. He also stressed the value of the official State of Illinois certificate as an aid to the job hunter. This will be given to all persons who attend 90% of the meetings. Sophomores and freshmen are invited to attend the lectures, and will be eligible for the state certificate but in most instances, may not be old enough to secure a job in the near future.

NO SUGAR THIS WEEK!

Try these 6 Sugar Saving Tips

- 1 Use honey instead of sugar on cereals and fruits. It blends deliciously with the nut-like flavor of cereals—turns them into exciting new treats.
- 2 Make more loaf cakes and frost the top only. Frost layer cakes between layers, on top but not on sides. Spry cakes are lighter—delicious unfrosted, too.
- 3 For a grand easy-on-sugar dessert serve light, tender Spry gingerbread in squares, warm, topped with whipped cream sweetened with a little molasses.
- 4 Serve canned fruit pies with tender, flaky Sprycrust. Boil down the sirup and you won't need sugar except a little with red pie cherries.
- 5 Serve piping-hot Spry biscuits with preserves or honey and your folks won't miss dessert! Try other Spry quick breads, too, see how light and tender.
- 6 Use jams, jellies and marmalades as fillings for cakes. Serve them also with French toast (sauteed in hot Spry) for a simple, easy dessert.
